[From the latelligencer, 22.]

A friend furnishes us with the following account of the monument erected to Henry Clay by Colonel Sheppard, a few miles east of this div.

A Louisville Lady in the City of the Lake—Matrimonial and Other Notes —Recreations of Chicago Police-men—Au Adventure in a Street Car, etc., etc. [Correspondence of the Courier-Journal.] The inscriptions, so far as legible, are as follows:

Raid Sida.—"Time will bring every amelioration and refinement most gratifying to rational men, and the humblest flower freely more to be desired than all the trapping of Royalty. Forty-four years of Aurophing of Royalty. South Side. —"Moses and Lydia Sheppard. to enumemorate the gracious munificence of the Government, especially as a testimonial of respect to Henry Clay, the eloquent and indefatigable advocate of national rights and national independence."

They may have been read to him, but you know he is a little deed, and he may not have heard them.

CORRESPONDENT — What interest "had Brownlow's some in the Senier movement; I thought they were rampant radicals."

Corresposses — What interest had Brownlow's sons in the Senter movement; I thought they were rampant radicals?

Stocks—I'll tell you. John Brownlow is a receiver of one of the Tennessee railroads. A couple of Rownlow's sons in law hold similar places. They have a salary of $3,000 a year, but there is more to them than that; there are some pickings. It addition to this the Brownlow's cream the same of the Brownlows are all fond of making money. Practice of Medicine. Mis name is familiar to all readers of medical literature. As a profound thinker, an earnest schoiar, a fluent speaker, a practical and successful teacher, and an accomplished gratiemas, he has few equals and no superior. He brings to his chair every necessary qualification for success. He is an acquisition not only to the school but to the community, and we predict for him a brilliant and successful career.

Dr. Macken is a straduate of the University of Edinburgh; he has taught in the classic medical schools of Canada, is an accomplished surgeon, and a successful and instructive writer.

Dr. Wright, as a locurrer on chemistry, has obtained the admiration of all students who have listened to him. He is an old and successful lecturer.

Dr. Octeriony is well known in this com-

Dr. Octeriony is well known in this community so now who has accured a large and increasing practice. He has lectured for two years to situdents, and their universal testimony in repart to him is, that he is not only an able and ancessful teacher, but do no who secures for himself their confidence and esteem.

Dr. Goodman has also lectured for two years to students, and has had the good for time to secure their commendation and respect. His large field of labor and his ample and locreasing experience must make him not only a successful, but raituble, teacher.

Dr. Buch is entirely at home in his field, having, as is well-known, labored successfully in it on previous occasions, and-having labored siways with satisfaction to his classes and to his many professional friends.

Dr. Breckinnidge has lectured to students throughout the past year, and in these efforts and as a speaker in public medical assembles, has won for himself an envisible reputation. He will ably represent the talent and increases the reputation of the distinguished family whose name he bears.

It will thus be seen that the organization of this
